Webinars Presents:

ACHD Spouse, Partner, Caregiver Support: Helping the Helpers

Wednesday, November 18, 2020, 7 p.m. – 8 p.m. EST
Presenter: David Highfill, MSW, LCSW

About the Webinar
Are you one of the amazing people who supports adults with congenital heart disease (CHD) into and through adulthood? If so, do you want to learn more about your role and what your impact is on your loved one? Do you know caregivers and loved ones are one of the primary reasons people with CHD are able to manage their lifestyle challenges and move forward? This webinar will honor the courage and strength of all CHD patient caregivers. It will also explore ways that they can access the support and care they need and deserve. If you want to learn, more, register today.

About the Presenter
David Highfill, LCSW, MSW, is a Licensed Clinical Social Worker with over 20 years of experience working with a variety of populations across multiple settings, including organ transplant (heart, lung, liver), HIV/AIDS, LGBTQ, renal disease, dialysis, the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs, home health, hospice, senior care, PTSD, substance abuse, grief and loss, and relationship issues. David is currently working with the Ahmanson/UCLA Adult Congenital Heart Disease Center while maintaining a private therapy practice and supervising master’s level social workers as they move toward licensure. David is uniquely familiar with many of these issues, as he is also a CHD patient who underwent heart transplantation at UCLA in 2012.

About the Adult Congenital Heart Association
The Adult Congenital Heart Association (ACHA) is a national not-for-profit organization dedicated to improving the quality of life and extending the lives of adults with congenital heart disease (CHD). ACHA serves and supports the more than one million adults with CHD, their families and the medical community—working with them to address the unmet needs of the long-term survivors of congenital heart defects through education, outreach, advocacy, and promotion of ACHD research. For more information about ACHA, contact (888) 921-ACHA or visit www.achaheart.org.
