

UCLA Health is a top academic medical center providing comprehensive, cutting-edge, and advanced healthcare to patients worldwide. As a leading Level 1 trauma center, UCLA Health is currently ranked the 6th best hospital in the United States and 1st in the West Coast by U.S. News & World Report.

Established in 1935, UCLA Anderson School of Management is ranked among the top tier business schools in the world. Its Executive Education program offers innovative learning solutions that focus on leadership, management, and strategy for leading global organizations.

UCLA Health and UCLA Anderson-Executive Education are offering a joint program in healthcare management in March 2020. The 5 day long program will be offered in two separate sessions. Held at UCLA Anderson, the program provides healthcare executives the chance to learn best practices of hospital management and develop strategic skills for financial management and leadership. The curriculum focuses on five different subject areas: People, Service, Quality, Operations, and Finance/Strategy. Attendees will have the opportunity to network with UCLA Health leadership and renowned UCLA Anderson faculty.
