Cynthia Fox talks with Dr. Cody Azari who is the Co-Director of Operation Mend. Dr. Azari is a surgeon and talks about how nothing gives him more gratification than helping those who have served. They developed this program to partner with our military in order to give the best treatment and offer the highest technological advances in the world to help our military. He talks about how we must help, protect, and take care of those who have volunteered to serve our country so we don't have to. Operation Mend gets all their money from donations that people give.
