

HERSTORY Study:

Hereditary Screening and Research for Selection and Analysis of Cancer Risks in Women

UCLA Health is seeking women to join the UCLA HERSTORY study.

This is a large study that aims to understand the risk factors for cancer diagnosis in women with a family history of the disease, with a focus on underrepresented minorities. The study will offer clinical genetic analysis at no cost and will create a biorepository with future opportunities for longitudinal participation in research projects.

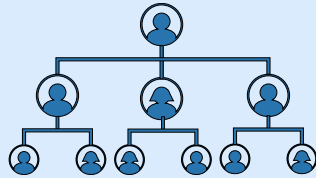

To be eligible, you must meet the following requirements:

Gender/Age

Female,
age 35 or older

Family History of Cancer

First or second-degree relatives

Diversity in Research

Identify as an underrepresented minority

UCLA Patient

Current or past patient

Participation includes the following activities:

Sign Consent

Clinical Genetic Testing

Questionnaires

Blood Draw

You may receive compensation up to $120 in gift cards for your time and participation.
