

Mortuaries/Funeral Homes/ Memorial Services

Your chaplain, social worker or a family member can guide you in selecting a mortuary/funeral home, which provides burial and cremation services. Below is a list of mortuaries/funeral homes that have experience working with families. You can expect the mortuary to collect the body from the place of death, store the body until it is buried or cremated, make burial arrangements with a cemetery, prepare the body for burial, arrange to have the body transported for burial and conduct burial ceremonies. You may visit mortuaries you are considering. You will need to complete and sign some paperwork to allow the hospital to release the body to the mortuary of your choice.
