UCLA EXTENSION

Infection Prevention and Control Certificate Program

About The Certificate

The Infection Prevention and Control Certificate is geared toward healthcare professionals with a desire to apply practical, evidence-based approaches to prevent healthcare-associated infections. This program provides the fundamental requirements in order to be marketable for infection prevention and control positions.

Certificate Curriculum

The certificate consists of six 4-unit courses. Course content aligns with the evidence-based, foundational knowledge of the Association for Professionals in Infection Control and Epidemiology (APIC) competency model. All courses are offered in the online asynchronous format.

Application Information

Application & Candidacy Fee: $175

Estimated Program Cost: $14,370

Estimated Textbook Cost: $500

Interested? Contact Us:

Email: hss@uclaextension.edu

Phone #: 1 (310) 825 - 7093

Sign Up:

HERE!