Authoritative annual rankings of NIH funding to individual researchers and academic institutions

The 2023 federal fiscal year ended on 30 September 2023 and fiscal 2024 is now underway.

We anticipate that NIH will release its final summary of 2023 awards in late December. BRIMR will then post a modified version of the NIH data for a 4-week period of public review, likely during January-February 2024, and shortly thereafter BRIMR will release their 2023 rankings.

Preparing for BruinBuy Plus

- On December 14, the ability to create BruinBuy purchase requests, purchase orders (POs), and change orders will be disabled.
- You will not be able to place orders during this time unless they are emergent, and those will require special approval and processing
- We encourage you to place supply orders and pay invoices RIGHT NOW
- Delay non-urgent requests in December until after roll-out
- Beginning January 3, purchase requests, POs, and change orders will be processed in BruinBuy Plus.

Preparing for BruinBuy Plus

The New Invoice Submission Process Begins on December 14th

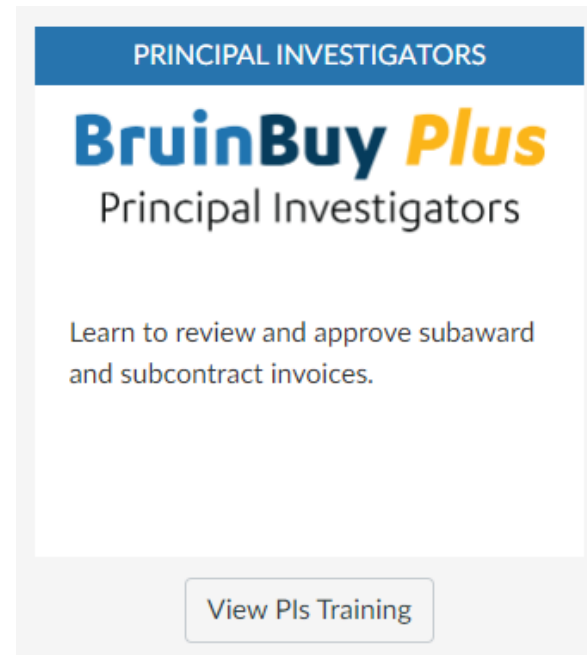

Starting December 14, 2023, vendors must submit invoices through a new centralized email address. That centralized email address will be shared soon. Transcepta and the Invoice Submission Portal will be decommissioned on December 13th. Review the BruinBuy Plus New Invoice Submission Process email that was sent to campus earlier this fall to get familiar with the new process.

Vendors have received a similar email outlining the new process. UCLA will continue communicating this change to vendors leading up to process launch on December 14th.

Preparing for BruinBuy Plus

- PIs and Fund Managers with awards that have outgoing subawards or subcontracts are required to complete BruinBuy Plus training.
- Visit Bruin Learn to complete your required BruinBuy Plus training by January 2, 2024.
